 - This studio exists because we wanted a dedicated yoga studio close to home.
 - Erica has practiced yoga for years. For Adam, a combat helicopter pilot who served multiple deployments overseas, it came later, a way to process what he'd carried home, to breathe, to reset, to come all the way back. What they both love about yoga is its simplicity, a mat, other people moving alongside you, a shared experience with room enough for your own mind to settle.
 - So when the opportunity came to restore our 1920s building upstairs, right above Align Pilates, we knew it was exactly what we wanted. Real character, original details, a space that felt considered down to the last detail — the other half of something we'd been dreaming of.
 - We took our time getting it right, because this isn't just a business to us. It's personal, and we hope you can feel that the moment you walk through the door.
 - We'd love for you to be part of it.

- Class Descriptions
 - EX: Class type- Description
 - Vinyasa - Link breath to movement by continuously moving from one posture to the next.
 - Power - A fitness-based style of vinyasa focused on building strength, flexibility, and endurance.
 - Yin “Descent” - Known to calm the nervous system and increase flexibility. Poses are held for extended periods of time to allow the connective tissue and fascia to release tension.
 - “Climb & Descend” - The perfect blend of movement and stillness. Students will move through a slow vinyasa before slowing down with long, restorative holds.
 - Yoga Sculpt - This class blends the mindful movement of yoga with the strength and sculpting power of a full-body workout - yoga, dumbbell-based strength training, and a stretch cooldown all in one class.
 - “Lift” - A structured, full-body strength class set to music, moving through segments that target legs, glutes, back, arms, and core - using dumbbells throughout. Each segment builds through steady, controlled movement to fatigue the muscle and keep your heart rate up. Expect a smooth, sweat-inducing format designed to build strength from head to toe.

- Teacher Bios
 - Carolyn - With more than 30 years of experience in the fitness industry, Carolyn began teaching group exercise in 1990 and has been passionate about helping others move and feel their best ever since. Today, she teaches Reformer Pilates, mat Pilates, and light weight training classes with a focus on building strength, improving mobility, and creating a welcoming environment where clients of all levels can thrive
 - Caroline - Caroline grew up in Zebulon, NC, and is a full-time freelance artist and instructor who teaches private voice and piano, leads yoga and fitness classes, and performs with opera companies and performing arts organizations. She began practicing yoga in her twenties to support herself through the challenges and triumphs of higher education, and in 2021, completed her RYT(200). Caroline believes the body is our instrument and she strives to create an inclusive space where every body, every story, and every unique “music” is honored as part of the beautiful orchestra of life.
 - Stacy - Stacy is a Trauma-Informed RYT500 who is also Warriors at Ease (WAE) level 1 trained and Yoga Nidra certified. With more than a decade of experience across a wide range of yoga and sculpt formats, she is incredibly passionate about making movement accessible to everyone regardless of experience, age, or mobility. Expect music-driven, lighthearted vibes.
 - Erin - With nearly 10 years of experience as a 200-hour certified yoga instructor, Erin shares her love of yoga through creative flows inspired by a background in gymnastics and dance. She specializes in vinyasa flow and inversions; and is enthusiastic about helping students learn to challenge themselves in a safe and supportive environment. With classes focused on alignment, strength, and mindfulness, she can guide students through their practice and learn to appreciate what they are capable of.
 - Sophia - Sophia is an RYT200 who has a love for movement and helping others cultivate a deeper connection with, and appreciation for, their bodies. She is a former professional dancer who found yoga through injuries and has continued her practice over the last decade. Her classes will focus on vinyasa style yoga, bringing together breath, mind, and body. Expect classes to guide you finding your strength, focus, and surrender on the mat.
 - Jennifer - Jennifer earned her 200- and 300-hour level certifications through Indigo Hot Yoga of Raleigh. In addition, she has completed Empower Movement training through The Yoga Joint, as well as trainings in Yoga Assists, Yin, Trauma

Informed/Sensitive Yoga, Yoga Sculpt, Inversions and Arm Balancing, Creative Vinyasa and Functional Movement Sequencing, Breathwork, Yoga Nidra, Myofascial Release, and Yoga for Athletes. A former collegiate dancer at UNC and a lifelong lover of music, Jennifer loves sharing her passion for the healing powers of movement, paired with ever-changing playlists. She loves teaching (and learning from) every unique student, from helping beginners learn the fundamentals, to guiding yogis craving restoration and stillness as a counterbalance to the pace of modern life, to challenging experienced yogis with opportunities to play, explore, and grow. All are welcome.

- Amy - Amy believes that movement is a celebration of what the body can do. Her classes blend a deep love for creative yoga sequencing with an unwavering commitment to inclusivity. Every body, age, and ability level is welcome. Together, Amy and her students build a supportive space to connect and feel right at home. Expect mindful, accessible flows set to fun, hand-crafted playlists that will keep you motivated and smiling.
- Jessica - (emailed request 9/11, follow up 9/14, text 9/16)
- Kyahna - Kyahna grew up in San Diego, Ca and works in crisis counseling and higher education. She became an RYT200 earlier this year after years of a dedicated personal practice. In her free time, she enjoys doing yoga, playing the piano, listening to music, and spending time with loved ones. Kyahna believes in always giving yourself room to grow - that life is about learning, trying new things, and becoming a better version of yourself along the way.
